For this assignment, you are asked to start thinking about The Persuasive Research Essay you must write next (writing assignment 2). This assignment is the second of three segments (annotated bibliography, outline, essay final draft) in completing this large research essay. You've already started researching and submitted 5 annotated sources to use in your research paper in the Annotated Bibliography Assignment, but now it's time to start brainstorming/prewriting and create an outline for your research paper.

To complete this assignment, please see the blank outline template below and submit it filled out with your own information/planning for your own persuasive research essay. This outline has a specific format, which is listed below with details, examples and a blank template for you to use/fill out with your topic. Your detailed outline submission must include all 3 sections listed: Topic Overview, Body Paragraphs and Conclusion. The final draft of your outline must be 2-4 pages.

- 1. Topic Overview: In this section, you should write up your introduction paragraph (See section 3 of your textbook, chapter "Drafting Introductions and Conclusions" for more help with this section.). This introduction paragraph should include:
  - General information about the topic
  - Background/context to help the reader understand both sides of the argument (list both sides of the argument as you see them)
  - An overview of issues/points of view/ideas surrounding the topic
